BANKERS WARNED OF DISASTER

Farmers' Needs Neglected, Cleveland Meeting Is Told

BROADER CREDIT PLAN URGED

Secretary of Ohio Bureau Speaks
Before Convention

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—Championing the farmer's right to organize for his own interests, Murray D. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, in an address here today before the convention of the Ohio Bankers' Association, declared that an agricultural problem "is right square before this country."

"It must be settled," he said, "on a basis of business rather than sentiment, and whatever may be the course and outcome of the reconstruction period, agriculture must remain the greatest basic industry in the world."

"SOMETHING WRONG."

The farmers of the country, he said, have entered upon an era of organization, "of which the business world as a whole scarcely is aware."

"The present development of organization among the farmers," he continued, "simply is an awakening to the fact that something is wrong. A system of distribution that takes as much for one handling of the product as it does for the total cost of growing and marketing, obviously is wrong somewhere."

The farm bureau, Mr. Lincoln said, does not aim to replace all middlemen.

"We have no desire to do so. Our plan simply means the transfer of ownership from the hands of certain private individuals to the hands of the producers, where it rightfully belongs. We are concerned ourselves only with the elimination of unnecessary and high-priced service."

DISASTER SEEN.

There is no business, the speaker asserted, that ought to have a better understanding of the needs of the agriculture than the banking business. In the rapid development of industry, however, he declared, "the banks have neglected to keep pace with the credit needs of the farming business, and if you as bankers are not careful students of agriculture, you will permit conditions to arise which may result in disaster not alone for the farmer, but for your own business as well."

"The farmer should put his business in such shape as to allow him to secure credit from the banks and buy goods for cash. That is better for the farmer and the merchant."

"The farmer needs a system, in order to put his business on a firm basis that will permit him to market his produce in an orderly manner, rather than be compelled to dump it on a market in a comparatively short time, as is the custom now."

"We need the counsel and advice of the bankers of this country," Mr. Lincoln concluded. "We believe that we are doing a work that warrants your attention. We are not asking for your sympathy. We are past that stage. What we want now is that degree of consideration and cooperation which the dignity and importance of our calling entitle us, and we feel that it will be forthcoming from the bankers of Ohio."

ROAD WORK HIT BY FREIGHT RATES

Main Factor In Keeping Up Cost,
Herriok Says

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press.)—Because high freight rates are said to be one of the main factors in keeping up the cost of road construction in Ohio, Director Herriok, of the state highway department, announced today that all future road contracts will provide that the state must receive the benefit of any lowering of freight rates.

Director Herriok said that the new policy would govern the letting of contracts for more than 100 miles of roads, for which bids will be received by the state July 22. The estimated cost of this work is nearly five million dollars.

Present freight rates were characterized as exorbitant by Director Herriok, who said that the freight cost on road material today is virtually as high per mile as was the cost to build a mile of road complete before the war. He said that freight costs now are about one-fourth the total cost of road construction.

TWO SPEEDER CHARGES
FILED; ONE FINE LAID

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, when arraigned in police court Wednesday morning, A. W. McBeth, Shawnee-twp farmer, was fined $10. McBeth, Wednesday night, was ordered to appear in police court by Motorcop Keller.

Leslie Simmons, 26, 1120 W. Spring-st., colored, was also ordered by Keller to appear in court. This case was, however, held up pending further investigation.

Simmons was arrested when he was informed Motorcop Keller he was only traveling 22 miles an hour. Keller is said to have cautioned Simmons to watch his speed. When Simmons told him he was going only 22 miles and hour, Keller is said to have arrested him.

MANY RAINBOWS OPPOSE BONUS

Question Up For Discussion At Cleveland Today

MAY MOVE HEADQUARTERS

Campaign On To Quit Columbus
For Washington

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—Bonus for war veterans will be one of the principal subjects discussed during the second annual convention of the Rainbow Division Veterans' Association, organized from units from twenty-six states, which opened a four days' session here today. Early indications were that it would be brought up at today's session. The question was expected to precipitate a lengthy debate.

Altho the last convention at Birmingham endorsed the bonus plan and its supporters believe they are still in the majority, many of the chapters of the organization are understood to have instructed their delegates to oppose the plan until disabled soldiers have been cared for.

HEADQUARTERS FIGHT

Perpetuation of the division as a national guard organization through action of congress and the war department, also will be taken up. Another subject of discussion will be whether the Rainbow division shall continue in its present form or be divided into regimental associations, with a national organization.

A campaign to move the headquarters of the division from Columbus to Washington was started today by representatives from the District of Columbia chapter. They contend a Washington office would be better able to handle legislation affecting the veterans and to supervise the collection of compensation for wounded men.

The delegation brought greetings from President Harding and Vice President Coolidge which were read at the morning session. The division was recruited from 26 states. The infantry regiments came from New York, Ohio, Alabama and Iowa, the artillery from Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

After training at Camp Mills, Long Island, the division sailed for France in October of 1917, the fourth division to arrive.

HEAVY FIGHTING

After three months of intensive training in France the men went into the trenches near Baccarat. From then on it was continuous heavy fighting and hardships, at Champagne where the division was a stone wall against the great German offensive, from there to Chateau-Thierry and then followed St. Mihiel where in two days over 2,000 prisoners were taken. The division was engaged in two important phases of the great Argonne-Meuse offensive and finally ended up at Sedan on November 7, from December, 1918, to April 1919, its members were in the Army of Occupation and finally arrived home in May 1919.

Colonel M. A. Tinsley of Council Bluffs, Ia., is president of the division organization.

MOOSE HOME OPENING DATES TO BE DECIDED AT MEETING FRIDAY

Dates of the "Made in Lima" exposition which will open the new Moose home, now under construction at West and North-sts, will be decided Friday night at a special meeting of the executive committee, named Tuesday. The executive committee session Friday also will dispose of other matters in connection with the exposition, which will be held at the new Moose home.

Letters were mailed Thursday to the various manufacturing enterprises of the city, outlining the plans for the exposition and soliciting co-operation. It is planned to make the affair the most novel and comprehensive of its kind ever held here. There will be a long and varied program of amusements.

CITY RIGHTS TO TAX BUS TO BE TESTED

COLUMBUS.—The rights of Ohio cities to license their taxi and bus lines is to be tested in the supreme court.

Toledo council enacted such an ordinance last March. W. R. Powless and fifty other taxi men filed suit in Lucas county courts to enjoin city officials from enforcing the ordinance, alleging unconstitutionality, but common pleas and appellate courts denied the injunction. The tax men filed an error proceeding. The case will be heard next fall.

NUN IS CALLED IN JURY.

LONDON.—A nun living in a community in London has been summoned to serve as a woman juror in the High Courts.

The incident is giving rise to great agitation in Catholic and legal circles, as it will mean her breaking her vows, and a bill is now being drafted by the Catholic Union in England to give immunity to nuns.

FRENCH ENVOY RETURNS HOME FOR VACATION

NEW YORK.—Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, was a passenger on the steamship Savoie today, returning to France on a leave of absence.

Georges Carpentier, the French pugilist, also embarked on the Savoie for a few weeks stay in France. He will return to the United States in time for a bout with an unnamed opponent on October 12.

LIVESTOCK RATE CUT DEMANDED

Rail Charges Unreasonable, Examiner Tells I. C. C.

HALT ON TRADE REVIVAL

Case Grows Out of Western Shippers Complaint

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Rates on livestock were held to be unreasonable from an economic standpoint and a recommendation was made to the interstate commerce commission that the carriers make substantial reductions for the benefit of business in general in a report made today by Examiner Disque. The case, which was brought by livestock shippers in the western states and in which various state commissions are involved, will be heard tomorrow by the commission.

INDUSTRY STIFLED

Rates on certain commodities are stifling industry and should be reduced, the examiner said, adding, however, that a reduction in rates on traffic in general seems unwarranted at this time.

The report said that altho rates on livestock were not excessive when judged from a strictly transportation standpoint, they "are unreasonable from an economic standpoint." The livestock industry, the report said, would be materially helped by a reduction in rates because the cost of getting to market is a substantial factor.

FEAR OF RAILROADS

The examiner said railroads "fear that if they made a reduction on one commodity, the same thing will be demanded in many others, and that if they yield, most of them will shortly be found in bankruptcy, for it is heavy moving traffic from which the carriers make their principal revenue on which reductions are sought."

"We cannot believe, however, that the country will allow such a thing to come to pass as a general condition of receiverships," the report continues. "We think that the carriers, in the public interests guided by the economic necessity of balancing costs and prices as a condition precedent to a sound business basis should favorably consider the matter of eliminating, for the most part, temporarily at least, and especially for the longer hauls and increases in livestock rates made following the increases ordered in the transportation act."

3 BOYS DROWNED

Step Into Sand Sucker Hole
Off Ashtabula Beach

ASHTABULA, O.—(By Associated Press.)—It was the opinion of coast guard officials here today that the three little boys who were drowned in Lake Erie off one of the bathing beaches late yesterday, stepped into a sand sucker hole, from which they were unable to free themselves.

The boys were James Knapp, James Kocsmar and Charles McFarland, all nine years of age. They were wading in shallow water when they suddenly disappeared. A full view of the county. Treasurer Miller took the responsibility upon his own shoulders of extending the time for receiving payment.

Taxes are coming in nicely, but there are still many people who have not paid," Miller said. "If the extension will mean an accommodation to the people, I am only too glad to make it," he declared.

This is the last tax collection Miller will make, for he will succeed the office to his successor, Harry E. Botkins, in September.

TREASURER LEHR MILLER EXTENDS TIME FOR HIS LAST TAX COLLECTION

To accommodate persons who will not receive their pay checks until July 20, Lehr E. Miller, county treasurer, announced Thursday that he will receive taxes up to and including July 20.

According to law, the time for paying taxes ends Friday. But to give the people a chance who wish to settle with the county, Treasurer Miller took the responsibility upon his own shoulders of extending the time for receiving payment.

Taxes are coming in nicely, but there are still many people who have not paid," Miller said. "If the extension will mean an accommodation to the people, I am only too glad to make it," he declared.

This is the last tax collection Miller will make, for he will succeed the office to his successor, Harry E. Botkins, in September.

40 SALOONISTS TAKEN
YOUNGSTOWN.—Forty saloonkeepers are under arrest here today as a result of a wholesale roundup of alleged liquor "eaters" made by city officers yesterday. But little liquor was seized, all of the arrests being made on warrants which were based on evidence of liquor sales said to have been secured by detectives.

CITIZENS PROTEST RIVER SMELL

Petition in Abatement Filed With County Healthier

OTHER PROTESTS TO COME

Appeal to be Made to State Board of Health

Elimination of the Ottawa River nuisance is demanded by a petition presented to the Allen-co Health Board, thru Dr. J. J. Sutter, county healthier, by J. C. Jones of Elida, Thursday morning.

This is said to be the first of a number of petitions being circulated thruout the county along the course of the river. At least three will be filed, according to Jones and will be signed by 300 property owners. There are 77 names on the petition presented Thursday.

Fish cannot live in the waters of the stream and have practically disappeared, according to Jones. The water is also so unhealthful that farmers are compelled to fence the creek in order to keep their live stock from drinking from the stream and being killed, it is said. The odor is extremely annoying to residents along the creek.

In the petition the signers pray that the county health board take immediate steps to compel the abatement of the nuisance. It is said that they are thoroly aroused over the situation and are ready to take any steps to compel action on the part of those in control of the situation.

Dr. Sutter stated that he would mail copies of the petitions to the state health department as soon as he had received all of them and will also bring the matter before the county health board for action. The state board has notified the city that it must stop polluting the creek and had understood that action was being taken to stop the nuisance.

City Healthier Dr. J. B. Poling stated Thursday that he had put the matter up to the council for action but that it had been ignored. Lack of funds is the excuse which has been given by the city dads for their neglect.

"When the matter is settled, it must be settled right," said Dr. Poling. "It will do no good to clean out the stream now, as within a month conditions would be as bad as they are now. A sewage disposal plant is the only solution. Just how it can be provided is not in my province, but is a question to be worked out by the council."

STATE MAY INTERFERE

It is understood that under the law if the city does not build the plant the state department of health will come into the city and build it, charging the expense to the city. According to Dr. Sutter, the state department was under the impression that the city was getting ready to actually erect the plant and for that reason was holding off. Just what action will be taken by the state when confronted by the united complaints of the farmers along the stream is not known. It is probable that the city will be asked to get busy at once or submit to state interference.

DIES AT THROTTLE

Engineer Collapses From Heat
As Train Enters Toledo

TOLEDO.—(By Associated Press.)—James J. Struthers, 45, of Detroit, Michigan Central railroad engineer, was overcome by heat while sitting in the cab of his engine yesterday afternoon and died before medical aid could reach him.

Struthers, piloting a freight train from Detroit to Toledo, collapsed just as his train was entering the Toledo yards. His fireman, Charles Barbanc, also of Detroit, brought the train to a stop and summoned a physician.

Coroner Hendler said death was due to excessive heat. The body was taken to Detroit.

SON MADE GUARDIAN OF JOHN WROCKLAGE

Adolph A. Wrocklage, Delphos, was appointed guardian of his father, John O. Wrocklage, 70, alleged insane, in probate court late Wednesday. The estate consists of $4,000 in personal property. The wife, sons, and daughter are next of kin.

Wrocklage also has an income, for life, in excess of $18,000, held by Theodore Wrocklage, Jr., and A. E. King, as trustees, under the will of Theodore Wrocklage, Sr., deceased.

Wrocklage's mental ability is said to be failing. Within the past few months his family charge he has spent more than $4,000 in reckless living.

WAGES CUT.
YOUNGSTOWN.—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, largest independent steel plant in the Youngstown district, today announced a wage reduction which will reduce common labor from 25 to 30 cents an hour, effective July 15. The plant normally employs upwards of 15,000 men.

SUNDAY BLUE LAW KNOCKED OUT

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(By Associated Press.)—An ordinance of the city of Pomona, near here, prohibiting Sunday amusements for which an admission fee was charged, was held unconstitutional yesterday by Superior Judge Burnell.

The judge declared the ordinance was class legislation because, while prohibiting theatres and similar enterprises from operating on Sunday, it allowed churches to take up a collection, which he said, was virtually an admission fee, at Sunday services.

HARDING'S ARMAMENT PLAN BACKED BY FIVE NATIONS

Invitation to Washington Conference Accepted by Japan and China—Tokio, However, Is Silent on the Far Eastern Question—U. S. Refuses Comment

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Japan's acceptance of President Harding's suggestion that a conference to discuss limitation of armaments was received at the state department today, but made no reference to the question of a discussion of the Far Eastern question.

Unqualified acceptance by the Chinese government also was received. State department officials would make no comment on the form of the Japanese reply which was not made public in text.

NO OBSTACLE SEEN

Silence of the Japanese government as to discussion of Far Eastern problems was not believed, however, to have interposed any serious obstacle to the carrying out of the plan. It was indicated that the formal invitation would be forwarded to Japan as to the powers which have transmitted full and unqualified acceptance, and in the end, officials believed, Japan would agree to participation in the dual program.

It was not indicated whether the United States would make further inquiry, formal or informal, as to the attitude of Japan.

CAUTION NECESSARY

The Japanese reply was made thru the American embassy at Tokio which is understood to have supplied the information.

EVA KABER INSANE EXPERT SAYS

Murder Trial Resumed Following
Breakdown of Accused

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—The trial of Eva Catherine Kaber on a charge of murdering her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, was resumed today following Mrs. Kaber's breakdown in court yesterday.

Physicians who examined Mrs. Kaber as to her physical condition reported her condition to be almost normal, with the exception of some nervousness due to strain of the trial, and Judge Maurice Bernon left it to her counsel whether the trial should proceed. They decided to go ahead but not to call Mrs. Kaber until other testimony had been completed.

ALIBI CALLED

After offering two witnesses, Mrs. Gertrude Fossiter, a religious practitioner, and Miss Mary Brickel, an aunt of the accused woman, who testified they believed her insane, defense attorneys then called their first alibi to testify as to Mrs. Kaber's mental condition. He was Dr. James C. Hassel, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, a specialist in mental disorders.

After qualifying him as an expert witness, Attorney William J. Corrigan then began to read a long hypothetical question on which Dr. Hassel is to base his answer as to whether he believes Mrs. Kaber sane or insane.

WOMAN WEAKENS

Mrs. Kaber appeared more refreshed when she entered the courtroom this morning than at any time since the trial began, but before the trial had progressed very far she appeared to weaken and attendants held stimulants to her nose. Large drops of perspiration coursed down her face and neck.

The court room was again crowded to capacity, mostly with women. Fire wardens and police cleared the halls of the court house before the trial started.

Mrs. Kaber's counsel held frequent consultations with her at intervals during the morning.

In answer to the hypothetical question, Dr. Hassel said it was his opinion that Mrs. Kaber was insane at the time of the murder.

HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD; FEW DEATHS

Never has the health of the city of Lima and the surrounding country been better.

Physicians and undertakers attest to this statement. While extremely hot weather has been in effect, there has been little sickness and the population in general is in good health.

Undertakers of the city have done less this summer season than ever before. "Guess we'll shut up shop and go on a vacation," a leading undertaker said Thursday.

Deaths have been few and generally Lima and Allen-co people are enjoying splendid health.

PLANE IS WRECKED IN CALIFORNIA

Machine Bursts Into Flames In Fall of 2,600 Feet

BODIES UNRECOGNIZABLE

High Voltage Wires Are Struck in the Plunge

MODESTO, Calif.—(By United Press.)—Four men were killed here today in an airplane accident.

The left wing of the plane crumpled when it was about 2,600 feet above the ground. The plane caught fire as it fell and within a few seconds was a mass of flames.

The machine struck high voltage wires in the fall.

The bodies were so badly burned that they were unrecognizable. Three of the bodies were thrown clear of the plane, while the fourth was buried in the debris.

Spectators declared they believed all four were dead before the machine struck the ground.

The pilot of the plane was later identified as Bud Coffey, a Modesto boy.

Coffey recently jumped into the limelight by carrying pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight to San Francisco in record time for the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Officials learned that Coffey left Yosemite early today for Berkeley. With him were:

H. E. Jacuzzi, one of the builders of the giant monoplanes.

John Kauke, Berkeley.

James McLeish, San Mateo.

Altho no positive identification could be made, these were believed to be the other three men killed.

DEATH MACHINES TRANSFORMED

British Munitions Factories Turn to Peace Work

LONDON.—(By United Press.)—British war "trusts," which turned out death-dealing instruments during the war, are now engaged largely in production of peace machinery.

The officials of several munition concerns told the United Press today that they would be affected by limitation of armaments, which is expected to grow out of the Washington conference called by President Harding.

The proportion of straight war materials now made by the famous Vickers, Ltd., is extremely small, compared with the manifold activities of its huge workshops, an official of the concern said.

"Proof that Vickers is fully equipped for peace, is contained in the fact that they have the full facilities which were constructed especially for manufacture of munitions during war time are now being maintained for production of more peaceful things," he declared.

"Airplane engines, automobile parts, machine tools, they are all right from our mill. The plants in Sheffield and Barrow have been converted exclusively to making locomotives, while that at Erith is making cardboard box machinery, parts and so on."

PENITENTIARY PROBERS ADJOURN FOR WEEK

COLUMBUS.—Adjournment was taken until next week by the senate committee investigating conditions at the Ohio penitentiary, when it is expected that one or two more days will complete the inquiry.

Yesterday's findings at the London prison farm by the committee developed that only 900 of the 1,500 acres at the farm are under cultivation, that an orchard planted six years ago has never been sprayed or trimmed, and that a construction superintendent and an electrical superintendent are being carried on the payroll when there is no work for them to do.

NEW TRIAL IS SOUGHT IN MYERS DAMAGE SUIT

Thirteen reasons are set forth why a new trial should be granted in the case of William H. Myers, aged painter, who secured a verdict Monday for $750 against Clinton T. Sealts, for alleged personal injuries. Myers sued for $4,000.

One of the reasons set forth is misconduct of attorneys for Myers, according to the motion for a new trial, filed in court Thursday.

Myers charges he suffered personal injuries when struck by an automobile owned by Sealts and driven by his son Manley last fall. Myers was riding a bicycle at Meicatt and Main-sts., being thrown from his wheel in the accident.

YANKS' IDENTITY UNCERTAIN

Work Of Recovering Bodies Of Soldiers Is Difficult

MANY GRAVES UNMARKED

Exhume Americans Who Died As German Prisoners

BERLIN.—(By Associated Press.)—The work of exhuming the bodies of the American soldiers who died as prisoners of war in Germany has developed such difficulties that some uncertainty attaches to the identity of the few which have been unearthed from among the unnamed German and other dead in the cemeteries near the old prison camps.

Many of the graves were unmarked and the names of the men buried in some places were unknown, so that much guesswork entered into the task of the American Graves Registration Service, in charge of two American army officers, which has superintended the operations.

The bodies exhumed comprise what are thought to be the remains of American soldiers who died in Germany, said a member of the Registration Service. "We have shipped 15 from Leipzig to Antwerp for transportation to America. Our operations have been carried out in Strasbourg, St. Louis (on the northern end of Lake Constance), Lindau, Am-Bodensee, Munich, Darmstadt, Coblenz, Stuttgart and Hindenburg, etc."

OBTAIN PERMISSION.—To exhume and remove the single soldier buried near Hindenburg—in a flower-covered grave shaded by chestnut trees, it was necessary to obtain permission from the International High Commission at Appeln, the Polish representative there, the head of German Self-Defense organizations, and the leader of Polish insurgents, for the grave was in territory held by Polish insurgents and the trucks of the Americans had to pass between lines of fighting Germans and Poles. A member of the American military mission in Berlin negotiated and obtained assurances that the American party would not be molested.

Two bodies were exhumed near Berlin, one at Tuel, Poland and another near Dresden. The work of the section, it is expected, will be completed about July 15. Captain Eugene M. Dwyer and Captain G. Cole have conducted the work with a civilian personnel of 24 men, comprising chauffeurs, embalmers and technical assistants.

HIGHWAY PATHFINDER WRANGLES WITH CITY AND C. C. OFFICIALS

"Colonel" Charles W. Thacher, pulled into Lima Thursday in his motor-driven schoolroom, having made the trip overland from Celina after dawn.

He failed to stop in Lima to deliver a speech and pulled out for Napoleon, after a wrangle with Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt and J. Konrad Johnson of the Chamber of Commerce.

The "Colonel" represented that he is official pathfinder for the Washington and Lee highway association. He became quite indignant when Mayor Burkhardt and Johnson asked for his credentials. "I have traveled all over the world," he bragged, "and my honch has never been questioned."

The Colonel told Johnson he would report to New York that Lima did not want to be on the proposed route and that the road would have to go some other way.

He was told that Lima probably will not miss it.

CELINA MAN CHARGED HERE WITH SELLING MORTGAGED AUTOMOBILE

Altering that John Boedicker, Celina, sold mortgaged property, George Dangler, on behalf of the City Loan and Savings Co., Thursday morning, preferred charges against Boedicker in police court here. Chief Roush, accompanied by Detective Crislenberry and Motorcop Glover drove to Celina, where they arrested Boedicker Thursday afternoon.

According to the affidavit, Boedicker purchased an Overland car from the loan company for $390. The car was to be paid for in installments. Boedicker the company averred after making several payments on the car sold it and did not complete the payments. The company alleges Boedicker attempted to defraud it.

He will be arraigned before Judge Jackson, Friday.

MRS. CARBONE TO BE SENTENCED SOON; NEW TRIAL IS NOT GRANTED

Mrs. Ross Carbone, alleged black hand letter writer, will not receive a new trial in the court of Judge F. C. Becker. Motion for a new hearing has been overruled by the court.

Sentence upon Mrs. Carbone will be passed by the court later. P. H. Hamilton, her legal counsel, arranged to take the case to court of appeals, at once.

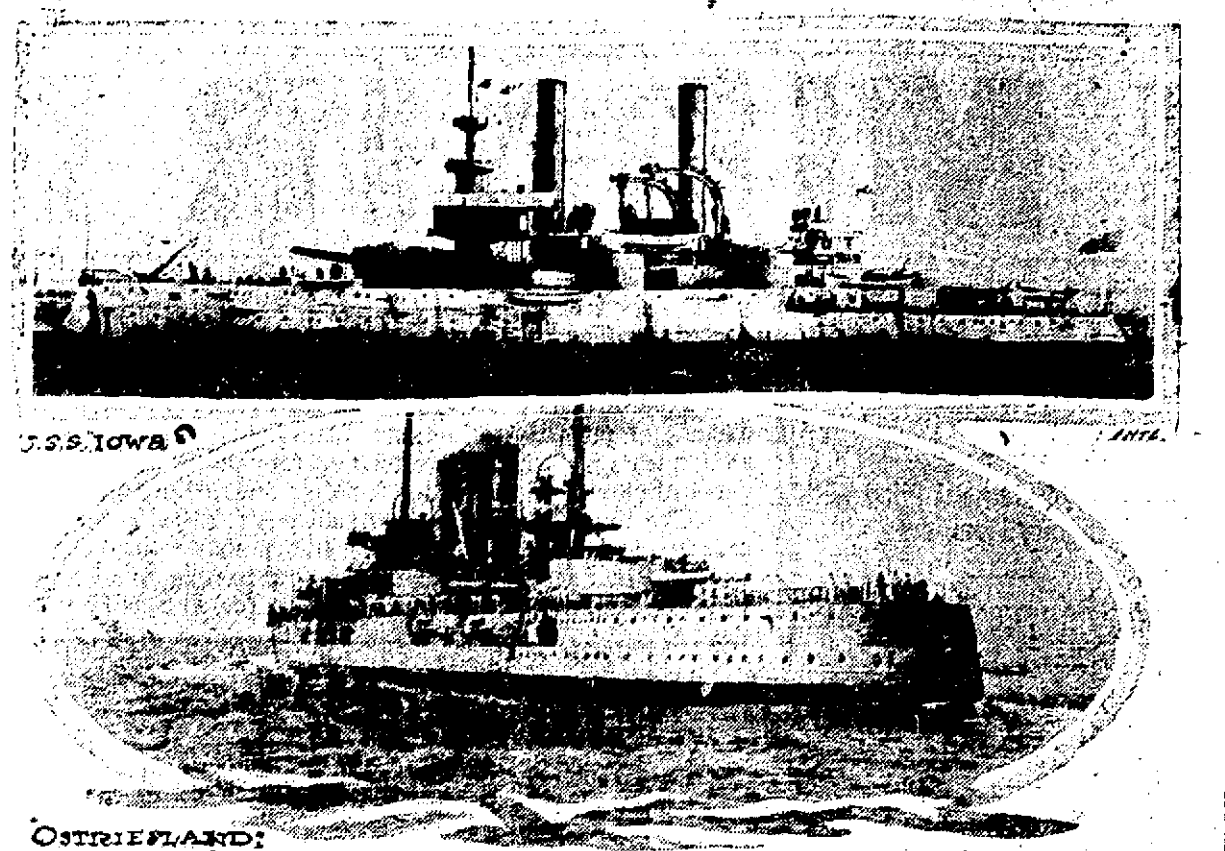

Mrs. Carbone was convicted of writing threatening letters to Killment Naum, groceryman, 1219 S. Main, demanding money. According to Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott, Mrs. Carbone and her husband, Rosa, were desirous of securing the grocery which Naum operated so successfully at 1219 S. Main-st.

Naum has sent his wife and young child to the home of her parents in Austria, he is arranging to dispose of his property and close up his affairs here, preparatory to returning to the country of his birth and joining his wife and child.

The third annual basket picnic of the Cristoforo Colombo Society of Lima will be held Sunday, July 17, in the grave opened by the French army on the north side of the "Pindar" just east of the D. T. & L. railroad crossing. There will be a big dinner and music and entertainment features of all kinds.

Good Pork and Beans 10c per can; $2.15 per dozen cans. Pipers.

Naval Officers Seeking Means Of Defense For Battleships Against Aerial Attacks In Future Wars

BLACK SNAKE HAS ORIGINAL IDEA

Mother Waters Babies By Unique System.

ATLANTA, Ga.—(By International News Service.)—Mother birds feign broken wings and legs, a mother cat will fight for her kittens, mother dogs also will fight, other animals have various means of defending their offspring, but Georgia has a snake that is absolutely original.

There are, it is true, no corroborative witnesses to back up this story and it has been mighty hot in Georgia this summer, but the man who told the story is a city clerk of Atlanta and is believed to be one of these mysterious reliable sources you read about, so here's the yarn:

Walter Taylor, city clerk of Atlanta, got it in second-hand shape from the eye-witness, Joe Epsom, who lives at Salt Springs, so says Walter. Joe tells the story like this:

"A few days ago," said Mr. Epsom, "I was near the well on my place when I saw a large blacksnake coming down a path. That wasn't extraordinary, but a second look while she would stop and fan herself briskly with her tail. In which she had a large oak leaf. It was evident she had come a long way for something and was about all in. The day was unusually warm."

"The snake made her way wearily to the well and, with great effort, climbed to where a bucket of water was standing on the structure. The baby snakes formed in a ring around a hole about the size of a soup dish in the ground. It was plain she had come for the purpose of watering her family."

"Mother snake wrapped her tail around the bucket and strove to turn it over. She couldn't. Then she wrangled the tail in and tried again, but it again was too much for her. She stopped and scratched her head with her tail, trying to think of something else to do. Suddenly an idea struck her. She stood on her head and dipped her tail into the bucket, then removed it and allowed the water to drip into the hole where her babies were waiting. She must have repeated the operation a hundred times, but the hole was finally filled. Then she descended and gave the babies a lesson in drinking. She had done all this without taking a drink herself."

"Her duty to her family completed, the old snake wearily dragged herself once more to the bucket and by an almost superhuman effort sank her head in the water and drank."

"Where is the man who can bring in a snake with greater devotion to its children?"

FOREIGNERS QUARREL; ONE FINED FOR ASSAULT

Samuel Mangrapano, 115 E. Vine-st, section worker on the Erie railroad, paid a fine of $5 and costs, in Justice W. H. Guyton's court, Thursday, when he pleaded guilty to charges of assault and in a menacing manner threatening to strike and wound M. C. Simone.

Simone swore out the warrant for the arrest of Mangrapano. The two men engaged in an argument which resulted expensively for Mangrapano.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Fred Baumgartner, 48, superintendent of power, St. Marys, and Mrs. Dorothy Engelman, 34, housekeeper, 120 N. McDonald-st., were married at 1219 S. Main-st., last night.

Robert C. Cooke, 22, night watchman, St. Marys, and Miss Esther Avella Scheer, 18, housekeeper, 1137 Hill-st.

AUTO RECOVERED.—Police, Wednesday night, received a report from T. M. Cole, Market-st. and Central-ave., to the effect that his Cadillac automobile had been stolen from in front of the Savings Building, Market and Elizabeth-sts. The machine was recovered Thursday morning by police. It had been abandoned on the Cole-st. road, about four miles from the city.

Lima Aerie No. 370, F. O. Eagles will hold a special meeting Friday night to initiate new members who cannot attend the regular meeting. All members urged to be present.

BY DAVID M. CHURCH

WASHINGTON.—(International News Service.)—With the nation talking disarmament and the controversy as to the value of the aeroplane against the battleship still raging, in high naval circles here plans are being made for new methods of naval defense.

The bombing tests which the Navy has made off the Virginia Capes and which are still in progress have developed a very well defined sentiment among naval men that the Navy's strategy must be changed. This is irrespective of their conclusions as to the value of the aeroplane in naval warfare. It is generally admitted that whatever opinion may be held of the aeroplane, it is a weapon which will be used in naval warfare in the future and defense must be provided against it.

Whenever it becomes necessary to increase the strength of the navy against new weapons the first thought is of added armor. There are those who have already advanced the theory that battleships may be more completely armored against air attacks, but this theory does not find great favor among the thinking naval officers, for they are of the opinion that the modern battleship is carrying about all of the armor that she is capable of wearing and still maintaining speed necessary for battle.

AERIAL WARFARE IN FUTURE

The submarine is probably the only vessel which is capable of adding a defense against the aeroplane by additional armor. Plans have been submitted for a heavily armored submarine, which might be considered as defended against the aeroplane, but these plans are not endorsed by the naval experts and there is considerable controversy as to the practicability of a heavily armored submarine.

There are many changes in construction of the new battleships which will lessen the visibility of the vessels from the air and there may be some slight additional armor added, but it is generally believed that the modern navy must be defended from the air in some other manner than by the addition of armor.

While naval officers as yet are unwilling to admit that an aeroplane could sink a modern battleship under battle conditions, they do admit that the aerial warfare is not only a possibility, but one should believe that the navy is sitting tight and laughing at the aeroplane. The navy doesn't do things that way. While the navy discredits the statements of air-service enthusiasts that the aeroplane will displace the battleship, the navy silently makes preparations to defend itself against this new weapon which they now believe to be a weak weapon, but which they admit may become a potent factor in future naval warfare.

COLORADO STOCKRAISERS ORGANIZE TO KEEP CATTLE FROM EATING LOCO WEED

DENVER.—"Keep the Cattle from Going Crazy" will be the motto of the Jefferson-Rock Livestock Association, newly organized by stockraisers in the South Park section of the Pike National Forest, forty miles west of Denver.

The new organization was formed in an effort to put a stop to the wholesale eating of "loco weed" by the cattle in that section of the State.

J. H. Hutton, assistant district forester and livestock expert, connected with the United States Forestry Department, says that the loss of cattle and horses in the South Park section has become so heavy in recent years that stockmen declare they are threatened with bankruptcy.

The "loco weed" is one of the greatest enemies to the stockraising industry in the West, according to cattlemen. The weed resembles alfalfa in the shape of the leaf and is white or purple in color. Because it grows luxuriantly in the Spring and Fall, before and after the summer grass thrives, cattle on the open ranges eat it for lack of anything else. Although it has practically no nutritive value, the "loco weed" generates an appetite for it, after the cattle have browsed a few times on the weed, and they eventually refuse to eat anything else. They become so "dopey" and poor that they are valueless as beef, and hundreds die annually from malnutrition.

The new association will co-operate with the Federal Forestry Department in keeping cattle off the "loco ranges" until summer grass is plentiful, in the hope that the menace can be removed.

NEAR RIOT CAUSED BY WAITERS

Alarmed At Speech Delivered To German Bankers

(By FRANK E. MASON.)

BERLIN.—(International News Service.)—Berlin bankers' compulsory dinner to the Russian Soviet Commissar Krassin nearly paralyzed the kitchen service of the Hotel Adlon, and threatened to drive the Adlon guests to out-ride restaurants for their dinner.

The Hotel Adlon, rendezvous of European royalty and nobility, holding the distinction of having ceremoniously been opened by Kaiser Wilhelm II, is notoriously dark pink so far as the political opinions of its employees are concerned.

General Director von Siemens of the Siemens Schuckert, invited representative directors of the important Berlin banks to meet Krassin at dinner in a private room in the Adlon. Among the German radical parties and several democrats.

Krassin, obviously to the admiring attention he was receiving from the communist waiters, who were straining their ears to hear every word he said, began a lengthy description of Russian conditions, intended for the ears of German capitalists. It wasn't the sort of thing the Russian propagandists had been telling Berlin communist mass meetings. "Socialism cannot succeed. Communism as we have tried it has proved a failure and it must be modified," the waiters heard Krassin say.

Like a cry of "Fire!" the words swept thru the hotel. In a few minutes work was suspended in the vast kitchen and little groups of white clad chefs with their high white caps were arguing in the furious German manner over the words of Apostle Krassin.

The dark reds contended Krassin was just kidding the bankers along for the benefit of business. The pale pinks were dubious, however. Krassin's anecdotes and stories of the shortage of dwellings, food and fuel in the cities. Only prompt action of the Oberkeiser prevented the impromptu political meeting from developing into a free-for-all putsch, as they call small revolutions.

Attempt to Wreck American Express Near Cleveland

CARRYING MILLION DOLLARS

14 Coaches Derailed—News Items From Ohio Cities

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—An attempt to wreck an American railway express company train of fourteen cars carrying a cargo valued at nearly a million dollars, was made two miles west of Willoughby early today, according to officials of the New York Central railroad after it was discovered that more than fifteen spikes had been pulled and plates removed from the rails.

Railroad detectives report that the company tool house nearby was broken into and tools removed with which the spikes were pulled. The train jumped the track after plowing along for 200 feet before it was stopped. No cars were overturned.

Victory Highway from New York to Frisco to be Completed

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By International News Service.)—Under the direction of the California State Automobile Association the work of "signing" the western transcontinental thoroughfare stretching from New York to San Francisco, is now under way.

Engineer James W. Johnson, of the association, is engaged in completing a reconnaissance of the route. Over 5,000 of the regulation C. E. A. A. road signs and auxiliary signs bearing the name of San Francisco and the mileage thence coming West and New York going East will be erected. The regulation road signs will show the nearest town and large city with the mileage thence in either direction. Eight or ten months will be required to complete the work.

The Victory Highway will be a National monument in honor of the living and the dead who served in the great World War. The road will stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific, passing thru Topeka, Kan., the approximate geographical center of the United States. The Eastern terminal of the highway will be New York and the Western terminal San Francisco.

In selecting the route has had in mind a highway that will best serve the people in time of peace and the government in time of war. The president of the Victory Highway Association is George W. Stansfield, a capitalist of Topeka, Kan., who early in 1921 conferred with officials of the State Automobile Association to obtain their co-operation in signing this national monument to those who fought and gave their lives in the World War.

The association plans to complete signing the highway to Jefferson City, Missouri, this year and by the Fall of 1922 the entire route to New York will be marked.

MURDERER RELEASED KEEPS HIS PROMISE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Conscience has driven Sam Payne, former city marshal at Walnut Ridge, back to his cell in the Arkansas State Prison, where he will spend the rest of his life, unless granted gubernatorial clemency. Payne escaped from the State Prison Farm eighteen months ago, after being sentenced to life imprisonment for murder.

Wary of the life of a fugitive, the mountaineer convict walked into Governor McRae's office, introduced himself and told the Chief Executive that he was ready to go back behind the bars. In surrendering he was keeping a promise to officers at Walnut Ridge, who "pinched" him when he came down out of the mountains to visit his wife, who was critically ill. He would go to the State Prison and give himself up, he said, if permitted to stay a few days unmolested with his wife.

LIQUOR LABEL LABEL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Tidings of "red liquor" fail to receive the spontaneous response of recent days, following the discovery by revenue men of a "red liquor" factory in the barn of a negro taxicab driver. "Bonded whiskey" labels were confiscated in the raid. Storerooms were filled with many jugs of "corn" with vast quantities of coloring fluid designed to change the ruddy glow of old Bourbon de luxe. Memories of "Old Crow," "Old Taylor," "Green River"—these were the labels.

In a signed statement Mrs. Sarah English, 132 Peters avenue, Byesville, Ohio, says Thurber & Yeo's Herb Wonder cured her young son of a distressing weakness of the bladder and stomach trouble.

These few words tell the whole glad story. Herb Wonder is not a patent medicine, but a carefully prepared compound, made from selected barks and berries, that go to the seat of the trouble and remove the cause. Its action in constipation and stomach trouble is marvelous. It is a mild laxative, and helps the kidney and bladder carry off the poison that causes rheumatism. (Adv.)

HOW MAYOR SPENT CITY MONEY

Less Than Half of $1,000 Used in Special Investigation

Mayor Burkhardt expended less than half of the $1,000 appropriated by council to investigate the conduct of the police department in enforcing liquor laws. Only $313.47 out of the $403.47 spent was in reality used for the purpose appropriated. Mrs. Amelia Van Gunten, Lima's only policewoman, received $90 salary.

Here is the way the money was spent:

Original appropriation . . . $1,000
Expenses incurred by detectives employed to secure evidence . . . $186.47
J. R. Cutbert, chemist, for testing alcoholic content of samples secured as evidence . . . 127.00
Salary of Mrs. Amelia Van Gunten, to July 1 . . . 90.00

Total . . . $403.47
Balance, restored to general fund, June 30 . . . $596.53

Wednesday night council refused to re-appropriate more money for continuing the investigation and also refused to pay Mrs. Van Gunten a salary for policing the amusement parks and censoring the dimpled knees of Lima's dainty darlings.

The expenses incurred by sleuths in gathering evidence, went largely into the pockets of the very men they sought to trap as payment for liquor at prohibitive prices. The record shows the $186.47 was spent for the most part within a week's time, prior to the big raid staged late in April by the police department. Of the sum $152 represents the "bar" accounts of the investigators for four or five days.

MAY TRY KOONTZ ON CHARGE HERE

Dola Man, Shot by Lima Officer, Blood Poison Victim

It is not impossible that the grand jury will investigate the case of William J. Koontz, mulatto, who is wanted here for shooting with the intent to kill L. C. Carr, 503 E. Market-st., and who is now being held at Kenton by Hardin-co authorities. This statement was made Thursday morning by Chief of Police Roush, following a telephone conversation with the sheriff of Hardin-co.

Koontz, who is alleged to have engaged a running gun battle with police and citizens here Sunday night, was shot in the foot, presumably by Patrolman Edwards. Reports from Kenton are to the effect that blood poisoning has set in, and Koontz's condition is serious.

Hardin-co sheriff, Thursday morning told Chief Roush, Lima can have Koontz as soon as his condition will allow him to be moved. Chief Roush said he intends taking the matter up with county authorities, in an effort to have the grand jury investigate, and indict Koontz as the facts warrant.

Koontz, it is understood is facing an indictment in Hardin-co, for carrying concealed weapons. The man is said to reside about one and one-half miles from Dola, in Hardin co.

SN'T SUPERSTITIOUS BUT GOEBEL HAS PROOF 13TH IS UNLUCKY DAY

If you have any doubts as to whether or no the thirteenth day of the month is unlucky, ask John B. Goebel, former police sergeant.

Goebel avers it is. And here's why.

Wednesday, July 13, Goebel was called to appear before common pleas court in Putnam-co to testify for the state in the case of Line brothers, charged with stealing a Ford from a Columbus Grove resident.

Goebel purchased a ticket at the Ohio Electric depot and boarded the car for Ottawa. Along came the conductor and just when Goebel was about to hand him his ticket there came a gust of wind 'zip' out the window sailed the piece of paste-board. Goebel "dug deep" and produced the necessary 65 cents fare.

Then when he arrived in Ottawa, he went into a restaurant for lunch. The waitress informed him that the meat was just about gone.

"Gone was good," remarked Goebel in telling the yarn, upon his return to Lima. "All I got was two hunks of bone. If anybody wants to know whether or not the thirteenth is unlucky, I'll tell 'em."

NUXATED IRON Helps make rich red blood and revitalize weak nerves.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY TODAY

Men Who Lack Bodily and Mental Vigor, Who are NERVOUS, Irritable and Easily Fatigued. Should Not Fail to Read This. It Is Not the Smartest Man Who Always Makes the Most Money.

A New York newspaper in a very able editorial, says that it isn't the cold case the fancy chain of the jewels in a watch that make it so, but that it is the MAIN SPRING. With this it is the same as with a watch, without the MAIN SPRING you cannot go ahead. With it nothing can keep you back. It is plenty of iron in the blood that helps put the iron will, the iron determination, the "go ahead"—the main spring of success and money-making man. Men of blood and iron have been the rulers of the world and captains of industry of every age. Without iron your blood loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the strength out of it, and therefore you become weakened both in body and mind. There are 30,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. When you find yourself nervous, weak, irritable and easily upset, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration but take some organic iron like Nuxated Iron at once to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like iron in spinach, lentils and apples. It is so prepared that it is ready for absorption, immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while some physicians claim that metallic iron, which people usually take, is not absorbed at all. Nuxated Iron often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, run-down, nervous folks in two weeks' time.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N I on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

HALT ON WASTE

MAYOR BURKHARDT'S request of council for an additional $500 to carry on the prosecution of hobbles has been turned down by the finance committee of council. This followed the discovery by council that the mayor was hiring a policewoman out of a fund of $1,000 recently given him for another purpose.

Council came to the chief executive's assistance with $1,000 several weeks ago when he was in the midst of his fight with the police force, which ended in a fiasco. The mayor said he desired to use the money for investigation to determine whether or not there was laxity in the police department, as he charged. Immediately after the money was available a policewoman was hired and the statement given out that particular attention would be given to short skirts.

So far as is shown on the surface, the city of Lima has not profited by the expenditure of the $1,000. The mayor said he needed $500 in addition for his work. This was denied. Council, in this particular instance, should be complimented for calling a halt on waste of public funds.

ADMITTING ALIENS

IT is very clear to the mind of anyone, possibly save the trouble-monger and near-bolshevist malcontent that the capital prize of the citizenship of the world today is the possession of the American. The eastern hemisphere spends much of its time in unavailing lamentation that it is not the western hemisphere.

In many little towns in Europe's squalid back yard there are those who mourn because the pittance they earn comes far short of the cost of passage to America. There was a time when, like a tidal wave, the human inundation rolled to these shores. Anyone who could tie a knot in a bandana handkerchief around a bundle and sling it on a stick found the gates of America ajar. Anyone, no matter what brand of sedition smoldered in his pate, could find his camp of refuge here and go home when the storm blew over and the quest of the police came to an end.

All these things have changed. This country suffered from the quality of naturalized citizenship which indiscriminate admission afforded. We found the domesticated alien often a social firebrand, determined to defile the water-brooks, ravage the glades and despoil the verdure of this country. It was found that it was easier to keep him out than to put him out after he was permitted to come in.

Hereafter, a desire to come over, to stay, will not afford a sufficient cause for letting down the bars indiscriminately. We have the right to choose who shall and who shall not come to us, to be among and of us. America is set with a determined resolve against the admission of more of the type of brawling incendiary and disturber who used to be common, slipping in among hundreds and thousands of others who have become splendid citizens of this country.

The number of aliens of a given nationality that are now being admitted is but three per cent of the number of that nationality already resident. Uncle Sam intends to restrict the number of new admissions to a point where it is positively assured that they can be assimilated. America is to shed the name of being the dumping ground of the world.

MISS LIMA: "A Lima pacifist is so pacific that he would have the Secretary of War called the Secretary of the Army."

SHORT ONES

NOW that peace has been declared, we suppose some of the politicians feel quite a relief.

IT'S funny how some men believe the public would not be satisfied if they didn't run for public office.

YES, it was a successful fight—for the fighters. Both the winner and the loser drew down a pretty fair salary for ten minutes' work.

CONGRESSMEN who have been sending their constituents supplies of seeds each year will have to change their plans this. They might send the women voters latest style magazines.

CARPENTIER will understand something about our country's taxing ability as well as its fighters' prowess before he leaves. Uncle Sam will get a nice slice of his purse in the way of income tax.

OPEN MUFFLER NOISANCE

THERE is a law against the operation of automobiles and motorcycles in the city with mufflers open. The law is like many another—it was made for the other fellow. Apparently that is the manner in which many motorists look upon it.

Barking, banging, rattling motors, with a sound that is not unlike a small bombardment with firearms, frazzle the nerves of citizens, disturb the peace, quiet and good order of the community and aid in transforming many persons from smiling optimists into pessimistic grouches.

The open muffler thunder-bus is one of the greatest nuisances in city thoroughfares. It is wholly unnecessary and it can and ought to be prevented. Other features of the traffic law are enforced upon drivers almost daily, but the open muffler goes on forever with all too many drivers.

The driver rides in the roaring thunder storm of his own creation. While it is a nerve-racking shock to those he passes, the driver becomes accustomed to the noise and probably doesn't even hear it. Surely, it brings no advantage, no pleasure to him, but it shatters nerves and produces headache for others who are compelled to endure it.

Laxity in the enforcement of any law or order affords the guilty person ample evidence, to his own satisfaction, that so long as he isn't taken to task for a violation, he has a right to go along doing a thing he knows is wrong, a nuisance and a torment to others.

LIGHTNING

DURING the summer months there are many reports of persons being killed by lightning. People have come to dread this danger more than any other. But there is little reason for this fear.

The death rate from lightning is only 5 in 1,000,000, government statistics show. The danger of being hit by lightning is far less in the city than in the country—only one-fifth as great, to be exact.

There are many things far more dangerous from the standpoint of death—traffic accidents, for instance.

Only a few days ago a noted scientist of New York declared that it was practically impossible for lightning to cause death in the Metropolis because of the great steel structures.

Men attempt to guard against lightning, as did the ancients. Lightning rods at one time were popular, taking the place of the devices of olden times. They fell into disrepute because of the large number of swindles connected with them. They are regaining favor, however, and one may see them being installed in many places now.

We'd like to have it widely known
To us the praise belongs alone —
But when defeat is ours to take,
Few have the courage not to make
The old excuse and place the blame
Upon the other fellow's name.

Since first the fall of man took place,
This trait has marred the human race.

The other fellow drops from sight

But let us falter, as we may,
And lose by careless work or play,
Few have the courage then to own
The fault belongs to them alone.

The test of man is not the way
He smiles on his victorious day,
It's how he stands to pay the cost
When he has made his fight and

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

The evening hours of this day are unlucky.

The stars indicate that a famous woman will end her career before Autumn.

It is also prophesied that an editor of great wealth and influence will die during the summer.

Those who are interested in publicity and advertising should profit greatly during the next few months.

There is a possibility that the conferring of honors on writers which has long been practiced may result in a diplomatic blunder, owing to lack of tact in one of high position.

Persons whose birthday this is will travel extensively during the coming year and meet with marked success financially. There will be many offers of marriage for young widows.

Children born on this day may be temperamental and fond of change. They are most likely to succeed in employments which take them on the water.

Kerker Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy Saved Him From Laying Off From Work.

"It worked wonders," is the concise statement of Harold Ankrum, sufferer from hay fever, after taking Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever preparation. Mr. Ankrum lives at Gratiot, Licking County, Ohio. His statement follows:

"I took Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever preparation in 1920 for hay fever and it worked wonders. I only lost three days' work. It had not been for the Kerker preparation I would have had to loaf all season, as I had done in other years. I heartily recommend the Kerker preparation."

Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever preparation is sold in Lima exclusively by Thompson's 3 Drug Stores.

THE RIGHT TO HAND IT AROUND

With all our fine pretenses of good will to mankind and brotherly love and that sort of thing, most of us prefer to preach such sentiments to the rest of the world and practice different ethics ourselves. For instance, when one of our own family comes down or is "threatening" to come down with some acute respiratory disease, goodness knows what at first, do we practice the good will to mankind which we are so fond of preaching? Not much. We consider our own little convenience and business interest only. In short, we ignore the unpleasant fact that practically every such illness is infectious and when spread to other persons may prove serious or fatal, even tho it turns out a mild or trifling illness in our own case. Ignoring this fundamental fact, and suppressing any little twinges of conscience which may annoy us, we decide to "bear up and fight it"—that is to say, trust of remaining voluntarily isolated for a reasonable period for the sake of public safety. We insist on keeping about at work and deliberately exposing all who come in contact with us to whatever infection we may happen to be peddling. That is about the extent of most of this brotherly love stuff we delight to sling around.

Oh, but have we no "defense"? Huh! A pickpocket is usually trying to get his hands warm! We declare solemnly that we "don't believe" common "colds" are contagious, or that we are "very careful" not to cough or sneeze in people's faces, or that we just want to run down to the office for an hour or two and come right back (meanwhile not counting the twenty or forty poor mortals we have peppered on the run.) Oh, of course, people with communicable diseases should be strictly isolated, but our case isn't so very dangerous is it? It is the same old story that presumably honest and law-abiding citizens are constantly dining in the physician's ear—give us special consideration, doctor, and do not have our home or our business place quarantined, or do not report the epidemic in our fair city; it would tend to injure business!

The respiratory infections, all spread thru contact or propinquity with unisolated cases, constitute a good four-fifths of the everyday sickness which keeps physicians busy. Neither diphtheria nor any other respiratory infection is one whit more preventable or more easily prevented than ordinary if not always simple, coryza, or as I regret one must say in order to be intelligible to the unintelligent, so-called "cold" in the head. I dare say that ordinary coryza is responsible for more permanent damage and more deaths than diphtheria today.

It would be far better to send a child to school at the height of an attack of scarlet fever or measles than to send a child to school with a "slight cold in the head," for a good share of the school children are already immune to scarlet fever and measles, but precious few, if any of them, are immune to the most vulgar and vicious of all the diseases we assume, it a right to spread.

ROBERT BARCLAY of Newburgh, N. Y., who says Neutrone Prescription "99" cured him of his rheumatism when he had lost all hope of ever being well again.

"For the first time in years," says Robert Barclay of 47 Jones street, Newburgh, N. Y., "I am enjoying good health and freedom from rheumatism."

"For two years I was a slave to rheumatism and no one knows how I suffered from stiff swollen joints, aches and pains. I was so bad for months at a time that I could not work and loss of sleep wore me all out."

"After the first bottle of Neutrone Rx. '99' I commenced to feel better. The swellings and pains left my joints and muscles; my health and strength returned, and I never felt so fine in my life. It seems almost too good to be true."

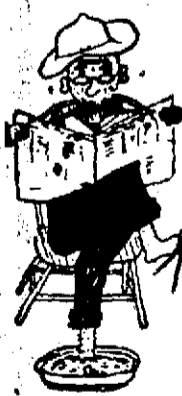

"I would like to meet the man or woman that Neutrone Rx. '99' will not help. You can tell the world that there is nothing like it for rheumatism."

Neutrone Prescription "99" now comes in tablet as well as liquid form, whichever is preferred.

PROFESSOR STEINBRUGGE SAYS:

New York has often been compared to ancient Rome and the question has been asked if it will meet the same fate.

Rome was filled with the essence of intellectual civilization. Its citizens indulged in luxury, idleness, pleasure, celibacy, feminism and gave more liberty to women than any other city had up to that time. Even a modern Ford would have been comfortable to ride in on the roads leading to Rome.

There were stadiums where "block parties" were given and poets, musicians and singers had full sway. These were known as "festivals of youth" and were also attended by zitherists, actors, jockeys, athletes and policemen.

Greek plays were given at the theaters. Some of the plays given at our theaters today are Greek to the audience. The Roman laws were very strict. The "lex de adulteris" were often broken—as they also are today. Rome had its aristocracy and so has New York.

Fortunate will be the chorus girls who secure engagements to play in the new Earl Carroll theater, New York city. They will enjoy every convenience and luxury that is known to the stars, but most important of all, they will have dressing rooms that are, but one short flight above the stage.

In the past, chorus girls have had their dressing rooms on the third, fourth and fifth floors, despite the fact that they must run up and down steps as many as fifteen times during a performance.

They dress the oftenest and endure the most physical strain. Yet the Earl Carroll theater will be the first to take their comfort into consideration.

GETTING ALONG.

The other day we read
A remark that had been made
By a lecturer to the effect
That to live comfortably
These days and enjoy
The ordinary advantages
A man had to have
At least a million dollars.
This worried us some
For we have not quite
That amount and we decided
To look into the matter
And do a little
Expert accounting and so
We spent several days
At it and sized the thing up
From every angle,
Carefully computing expenses
And figuring on the present
Value of the plunk.
We found the professor
Was mistaken in his remark.
To live comfortably and Offer his family the Usual advantages, a man
Doesn't need a million.
By strict economy he can Manage to wiggle along
In quite a degree of comfort
If he has $99,999.99

FINANCE MEN USE PRUNING HOOK

Council Body Slices City Appropriations

Council's finance committee used the axe on appropriation requests made by department heads when its members met in the office of Auditor David L. Rupert, Wednesday night to consider the budget for the next six months.

Economy was the watchword and the committee cut every item to the bone, where it was possible to do so. In many cases no particular reason was assigned for cutting the appropriations asked for, save that the departments could get along without the money, so the items were lopped off.

Total of appropriations asked for was approximately $320,000, of which sum the committee cut off about $40,000 and still more may be amputated when the budget form comes before the council for discussion Monday.

The principal reductions were made in the service, safety and water departments and several thousand was lopped off the general fund, which had included plans for new fixtures for various city offices.

Appropriation for the Service department was reduced from $4,277 to $3,041, a cut of $1,236. Safety department asked for $79,275 and will receive $71,900. The water department was cut $5,754 in a request for $120,467.55.

About 7,500 was lopped off the appropriations for street repair, as the city will receive $17,000 from the state from automobile licenses, which can be used for the purpose.

Appropriations for the health department, fire and police pensions, the hospital and library were allowed to stand. From $2,056 asked for the Market house, the committee cut off $616.

Mayor Burkhardt was refused $500 he asked for to continue his investigations of illicit liquor traffic and immorality among the youth of Lima.

An appropriation of $1,000 made by council is non-existent, the balance having reverted to the general fund June 30. Policewoman, Mrs. Amelia Van Gunten has been paid from this money, and in refusing to continue the appropriation, council automatically cut her off from the public payroll.

LIMA OIL COMPANY TO DRILL IN MERCER-CO

Drilling for oil is to be started immediately in Mercer-co by the Favorite Oil and Gas Co., of Lima. It has been announced by officials of the company.

Two thousand acres of land in Mercer-co is at the disposal of the company and is said to be rich in gas and oil.

One well was drilled on this property a number of years ago, but was never shot, although it is said to have shown a great quantity of oil and gas.

The Lima company has decided to begin at once on the development of the possibility of their holdings in Mercer-co.

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED

Her property consists of $7,000 in real estate. Fred Fisher, R. B. Toland and W. C. Brennehan were named appraisers.

TEAL WITHDRAWS AS CANDIDATE

Eleventh Hour Entrant in Commission Race Quits

Of the 21 candidates who breasted the barrier Saturday night, ready for the big city commissioner derby, August 9, one entry has scratched to date. The others state that they are in the race to the finish.

Harry L. Teal, 701 N. Baxter-st., manager of the I. C. S. in Lima, has pulled out of the fight. Thursday Teal stated that he expects to be absent from the city during a greater part of the time between now and election day and finds that it will be impossible for him to remain a candidate.

Teal entered the race on solicitation of friends and was among the last candidates to get under the wire at the eleventh hour Saturday.

All other candidates' names will go on the ballot for the August primary. The entire 20 have accepted and will make the race. According to the rules laid down in the charter, if any candidate neglects to file acceptance of the petition filed in his behalf, 25 days prior to the primary, his name will not appear on the ballot.

The fees for filing have all been paid in and the total of $60, representing $3 per man, was taken to the court house by A. J. Morris Thursday and deposited with the county treasurer.

The election board will spend an appropriation of approximately $8,000 and more in Lima from July 1 to December 31, in the nomination and election of commissioners.

SCENARIO WANTED COOGAN SEEKS MOVIE IDEAS

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

KNOW of any nice, snappy stories that would make good movies? Jackie Coogan, who won the everlasting friendship and love of every movie fan in the country by his wonderful work in Charlie Chaplin's "The Kid," wants suggestions that will help him find suitable stories which can be adapted for his use on the screen.

Jackie doesn't want scenarios. He doesn't even want any original ideas. What he wants is just to hear from persons who believe they know of some particular book which will furnish a background for his talents. This is a sincere plea, says Jackie's press representative. It seems pretty hard to find suitable material for the versatile young Mr. Coogan. He likes stories that are wholesome and clean, of course, stories in which he can be a real boy, mischievous and genuine. There can be pathos in it, too, for Jackie can act.

Let's see, what sort of stories used to lure and keep us at the public library for hours? Perhaps one of your old favorites may prove a vehicle for Jackie.

"THE GREAT DAY" ANOTHER ENGLISH DRAMA

WELL, yesterday afternoon we went to see "The Great Day," advertised as the second British-Paramount picture to be shown in this city. The first one, "The Call of Youth," didn't elicit any enthusiastic praise from this jaded and persnickety department. "The Great Day," which is the present offering at the Faunt Opera House, didn't make any more of a hit with said j. and p. department, than did the first one.

The above doesn't mean that the picture is not a worthy offering. It has some good points, for instance, the beautiful English scenery. The director surely had a good eye for effect and every scene was taken amid magnificent surroundings. The story is little and obvious. A man wishes his beautiful daughter, Clara, to marry into nobility. Clara, however, loves a man who has brains but little of this world's goods. She disobeys her parents and marries the man of her choice, but on her wedding day another woman turns up who claims to be the gentleman's wife.

You see, he had thought her dead. She had known all along that her husband was to be married, but she

THE presence in the city this week of several out of town guests has made what would have been a rather dull week in the social world, a busy one. Owing to the intense heat no large parties have been given, most affairs taking the form of dinner parties, afternoon bridge parties, luncheons and picnics.

Several pretty social functions have been arranged for Friday, making it an interesting day.

For the pleasure of Misses Ruth Graham, Pittsburg; Eugenia Selby, Marion; Messrs. Kirby Whyte and Hugh Wilson, both of Chicago, house guests of Miss Pauline Wenner and her brother, Henry, Mrs. William Wenner, W. Market-st., will entertain at dinner at the Elks' home, Friday.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. J. Robb Melly and Mrs. Frank Butters will receive a group of guests at 4 o'clock tea at the Butters' home on Lakewood-ave.

Honoring her sister, Mrs. L. C. Usher (Eloise Roberts), Albany, New York, Miss Eloise Roberts, S. Baxter-st., will entertain Friday evening.

Complimenting Miss Marguerite Zender, Mr. and Mrs. Branson Harley homes will welcome a group of guests at their home on Lakewood-ave, Friday evening for an informal musicale.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidneys Deposits are Discovered and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Drug-ists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do not neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 known as Marshroot, is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, blotting irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unflinching certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for Hunter's Drug Stores and every good druggist has been authorized to refund the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.

If you are thin, scrawny and underdeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, if almost every meal you eat is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes four, substantial fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishment you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES.

That is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphate guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things.

Hunter's Drug Stores, Butler's Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphate and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphate accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few pounds of solid stay-there flesh.—Adv.

SNUBS FRIEND, NOW SORRY

"Unhappy" Is Rude and Must Learn to Be More Courteous

SNUBS FRIEND

Dear Miss Smart: I KEPT company with a young man for some time and that I realized that I was too young to devote all my time to one man. I refused his invitations and at times snubbed him.

He insisted upon calling me on the phone frequently, but now he has stopped. I am sorry for what I did and want you to suggest to me again. What would you come to see me again. What would you suggest that I do? UNHAPPY.

MY dear girl, certainly you know that it is very unwise to snub any one, especially one who has given you no excuse for such an attitude on your part. It would even have been better had you told the young man why you refused his invitations, instead of ignoring and snubbing him. Perhaps you could have talked sensibly with him and told him that you realized you were too young to devote all your time to one young man. Doubtless you could have reached some decision whereby you could have continued to retain the friendship of the young man and have gone out with him occasionally, enjoying the company of your other friends at the same time.

It may be that you cannot regain this young man's friendship and it not, you have only yourself to blame. When you refused his invitations you should have done so with the greatest courtesy and consideration. Your rudeness doubtless hurt him greatly and naturally he assumed that you cared no longer for his friendship.

It is always correct to apologize for discourtesy. Write a note to this young man, telling him that you regret your rudeness. Then if he cares for your company, he will make the necessary advances.

Dear Miss Smart: Will you please tell me how I can remove ice cream stain from a tricollorlette dress? DORA.

Apply a little tetrachloride to it with a soft cloth, from left to right, and not round and round, in order to prevent the small ring which sometimes appears around the place where the spot has been.

Dear Miss Smart: Every day a young man passes me. I know from his actions that he would like to meet me and he seems very much interested in me. Would it be all right for me to speak to him? A READER.

You should not speak to the young man. You should know that you shouldn't. If he is interested in you, he will find some way to become acquainted with you. If you should speak to him without an introduction, he might lose whatever admiration and respect he may have for you.

LIFE INSURANCE $400,000

By WILLIAM ALMON WOLFF

In the beginning Prentice had been rather flimsy about his death. He regretted this now, and removed all restrictions. He had kept a sort of mental record, and at the end of two weeks he owed his life to each of seventeen busybodies.

His luck was incredible. His life was charmed; that was all.

The whole business naturally began to play havoc with his nerves so that he was driven to the ridiculous resort of going to a doctor for a sedative. He didn't know any doctors professionally so he went to a man who had wanted him to do a portrait, although the portentous person was expected to treat such a trivial trouble as Prentice's. This doctor, whose important name was Hammersmith, didn't have office hours at all. He devoted most of his time to research.

When Prentice's card was brought to him, he supposed that Prentice had changed his mind about the portrait, and was pleased. When Prentice told him what he had come for, he laughed. "I'm not exactly practicing, you know, my dear fellow, but if you'll come to the laboratory, I'll hunt up something for you. You do look jumpy, for a fact."

Prentice gave a few details. "H'm! Ah! Yes!" said Hammersmith. "I think I see. I ought to have just the thing somewhere." The laboratory was full of weird-looking things, and he cocked his eye and imagined a picture. Hammersmith, at work, might be rather good.

"I don't let many people in here," explained the doctor. "Dangerous ground, you know. See those test tubes? Cultures. Germs enough in most of them to kill all the people in New York. If I happened to be mad suddenly, I could make the Black Death look like an epidemic of hay fever."

While the doctor's back was turned, Prentice stole the handiest test tube without any compunction whatever. Hammersmith found what he was looking for, and mixed up a fuzzy dose that tasted vile and salty—and laughed at Prentice's suggestion of a fee.

Prentice did not know any more about germs and cultures, bacilli and anti-toxins, than the average man. It seemed safer to him to swallow the contents, which he did. He wondered what he had given himself. Hammersmith had talked about Asiatic cholera—he hoped it wasn't that—and typhoid and meningitis and a lot of other diseases—all fatal.

In about half an hour the telephone rang and Hammersmith, in deprecating tone, wanted to know if Prentice had happened to pick up a test tube. One was missing and he thought Prentice, carelessly examining it, might have slipped it into his pocket or something. Prentice managed to lie.

"Well," said Hammersmith. "It's a perfectly harmless culture that's missing. If any one happened to swallow it, it might make him rather sick. Be good for him, probably."

"That's lucky," said Prentice, dubiously. Hammersmith was quite right about the effect of that culture. For two days Prentice was distinctly out of sorts. And he was pretty well discouraged, too.

From Cranmer there came not a word. After the effects of the culture wore off, Prentice went about his hunt for death listlessly. The sporting interest that had buoyed him up in the beginning had gone out of the business.

He dined somewhere near Forty-second street and Broadway one night, and about 11 o'clock he gave up and walked west thru a street that was almost deserted.

He didn't notice it, but there were curious things about several houses in the block between Broadway and Sixth avenue. Seemingly these houses were closed up, empty. The front doors were boarded, and so were most of the windows. But a prying eye might have seen a glint of light occasionally behind those shuttered windows. And if one had stayed there long enough, one might have seen men, with something furtive about their walk, ring bells in service doors that led to basements. One might have observed, further, that these men were admitted, after colloquies that were held thru doors opened only an inch or so, with chains holding them to that slight opening.

Behind him, from Broadway, a touring car, running slowly, slipped thru the block. Just ahead of him it stopped, and he noticed two men in the tonneau, in addition to the driver up in front. He himself was pretty well hidden in the shadow between a pair of dim street lamps, where he had stopped for a minute to light his pipe.

The car was on the opposite side, and it had stopped about twenty paces ahead of him. He noticed the number. The driver sounded his horn—three long blasts, a short one, a long one and repeat. A door opened and a man stood revealed against its background of light, on the high stoop of one of the mysterious houses. From the waiting car, five quick flashes of light flickered, and five tiny, muffled reports sounded. The man went crashing down the steps and fell in a sprawling heap on the sidewalk. Instantly the car swung around, and the light of the nearest street lamp was on the faces of its three occupants.

They had done murder in that moment, and the faces of all three were burned into Prentice's memory. Then the car was gone and Prentice, shouting, ran toward the man on the sidewalk.

He was quite dead. Prentice, little as he knew of such things, could see that. And as he looked down on what had been a living, breathing man just a minute before, he could think of nothing but his anger, his furious resentment at the work of the three murderers. This dead man was so helpless. He looked so bewildered. He might have deserved his fate, but that didn't matter. His wife had been blotted out; he was the victim of a crime dastardly, cowardly.

Prentice lifted his voice and cried aloud for help. In the house whence this dead man had come, not a sound was made, not a sign of life.

Yet there was life behind his strange brooding darkness. Prentice was quite sure.

Converging upon him came policemen from Broadway, from Sixth avenue. And the silent street seemed to spew up crowd that outstripped even the running policemen, and gathered around Prentice and the man on the sidewalk. Prentice might be the murderer, for all the crowd knew. Not a man stepped forward, not a man offered aid.

The first policeman who came pushed Prentice aside roughly, and stared at the dead man.

"Never saw him before," he said to the next blue-clad arrival. "Who's this guy here?" asked one of them, staring at Prentice.

"It's a pinch, I guess," said the first blue-clad. "He was leaning over him when I come along."

An ambulance came, and a patrol wagon, more policemen, too, who charged thru the crowd. Now there was noise in plenty.

"Shut your trap!" growled a policeman detailed to keep watch on him, when Prentice tried to speak of the number of the car. "We got your number all right, all right!"

Prentice was arrested, of course. He and the body of the victim rode to the West Forty-seventh street police station in the patrol wagon, jolting thru curious, morbid crowds. The captain, the inspector of the district, and an assistant district attorney, talked to him. They discovered what should have been obvious from the first—that he was not only absolutely innocent, but promised to be astonishingly valuable as a witness. He told his story in plain, blunt words and called for pencil and paper. He made quick sketches of the three men in the car, as he had seen them in that pregnant moment.

"Those are the murderers!" he said.

"Those are the murderers!" he said.

"Those are the murderers!" he said.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

Mrs. Randall's question seemed to Cherry to be fraught with well-veiled suspicion, curiosity and condemnation, gently tho she put it.

There was an instant silence on Hamlen's part, as he waited evidently for Cherry to answer her mother-in-law rather than himself.

"Doing?" said Cherry, gaily. "Having the best time that any girl could possibly want. Mr. Hamlen was certainly a Good Samaritan in every way. Helped me along the dusty roads when I was really tired, and gave me the loveliest tea at the dearest, little, old-fashioned tea shop in the world. Maybe you've been to it yourself, mother, or you Janey?"

Turning spontaneously to her sister-in-law.

"You mean, I presume, Peck-a-Boo Inn?" answered Mrs. Randall. "The small tavern affair just outside the village? Yes, I have been there several times, Cherry. Miss Case, who owns the place, knows me very well. Dear, dear, I do hope that she will not start to gossip about your being there without Ned. Old maids' tongues will wag, as we all know to our sorrow. I should think that you would have remembered Miss Case's reputation for scandal-mongering. Mr. Hamlen?" she finished, looking pointedly in that young man's direction.

"Never thought about a thing, 'pon my word, except that Mrs. Randall, here, was tired and hungry. I was almost starving myself, having left home without any luncheon for some unknown reason. All that either of us could focus our thoughts on was food!" We got it there, too. Wonderful food! As for Miss Case, she didn't seem to notice us much.

"Come to think of it, I never thought much one way or the other about Ned's being over fussy on certain subjects. But he surely couldn't be upset at his wife's being out to tea at a perfectly all right tea shop with his own friend, Mrs. Randall?"

"It's not that, but the fact of your having remained away so long after nightfall, and his wife not home. Besides, why couldn't you have telephoned and relieved our anxiety?"

"Good gracious, mother," burst from Cherry at these words, "we just didn't think, that's all. There was nothing intentional about it."

tended to her business, which I can assure you was to keep two hungry young people supplied with tea, bread and butter and sundry other goodies, top speed."

"Well, we can but hope for the best," answered Mrs. Randall, "but I know that Ned will be vexed at the escapade. My son is so conservative, Mr. Hamlen, as you no doubt know, especially where the women of his family are concerned. And I must say, with all the looseness going on in the world at present, it is good to realize that a few of us still adhere to the old principles."

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. BARRON, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Another Michigan Woman says: "I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and was so nervous I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

ASK LOWER RATE FOR LIGHT, GAS

Van Wert Council In Contention
With Utilities

OIL BOOM IS UNDER WAY

Civil Service Examination for Delphos Postmaster

DELPHOS — (Special) — City council of Van Wert, at the request of citizens there, has taken action to obtain a lower light rate from the Northwestern Ohio Light Co. of this city, which furnishes light and power to Delphos, Van Wert and 24 other towns. They ask a reduction of from 13 to 12 cents per kilowatt hour.

At a regular meeting of the Van Wert council, a committee was appointed to confer with officials of the company here with a view to a compromise. A sub-ordinance was added to the company's franchise last winter permitting them to charge 13 cents per kilowatt for a period of six months. The six month period expired July 1 and councilmen claim the rate should now revert to the old rate of 12 cents.

Van Wert is also at odds with the company which furnishes consumers with gas. The committee appointed by the council to thresh out the question has been given a longer time in which to make their report. The price of gas in connection with their case has been placed in the hands of attorneys.

A new ordinance providing for a lower rate of gas for the consumer and a calorimeter measurement of the gas will be drafted by the council soon and a copy sent to the state utilities commission.

An examination will be held by the postoffice department in this city on August 9, for the purpose of creating an eligible list from which an appointee will be selected to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Postmaster Alex J. Shenk of this city. Edward E. Truesdale has been appointed temporarily and the examination will decide his successor.

According to the custom under the new administration, one of the three applicants who has the highest average in the examination will be selected to fill the office.

John H. Judkins, candidate for mayor on the Republican ticket, and Truesdale, the present incumbent, will be in the list of applicants.

Mrs. Richard M. Evans, 77, pioneer resident of Van Wert, died Tuesday at her home two miles north of Venedocia, after a 24-hour illness brought on by old age.

Mrs. Evans spent her entire life in this vicinity. Surviving are her husband, five daughters, a son and one brother as follows: Mrs. William Davis, Middleport; Mrs. John Edwards, Rome, N. Y.; Kate, Agnes and Morris at Lima and John Evans, Venedocia her brother.

L. S. Smith, successor to John I. Miller as superintendent of Public Works for Ohio, and E. E. Boonen, superintendent of public lands, were in this city Wednesday while making an inspection of the various properties of the state.

They come from St. Marys, and will go from there to Defiance.

BRITISH TO ARM PILGRIM FORT

Present Two Guns For Old
Plymouth Defense

PLYMOUTH, Mass. — (By Associated Press) — The old Fort, which Captain Myles Standish set up and manned for the protection of the little Pilgrim Colony, is to be armed again. Thru the initiative of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, the British government has taken from the Royal Arsenal at Woolwich two guns of the 16th century, similar to those given the Forefathers' Day, and given them as a memorial guard over the graves of the Forefathers on Burial Hill.

Colonel Sydney M. Hedges of Boston, former commander of the Ancients, has received thru Secretary of War Weeks, a letter from the navy department containing notice that the U. S. S. Pittsburgh has been assigned to convey the guns to this country, and her commander has been instructed to receive them at Gravesend "with proper ceremony." They will reach this country the latter part of July, and will be received here Colonel Hedges said, in like manner.

TWO GUNS

The guns are described as follows: A brass sakeret, of the time of Edward VI, bearing a shield with three lions passant and underneath an inscription, "Thos. Owen made this piece of the Yel of Carnes when Sir Peters Mevras was governor and captain, A. D. 1559." This gun is 6 feet long, weighs 608 pounds, and was a breech loader.

A brass minion, of the time of Queen Mary, bears a reinforced shield with letters, M. R. (Maria Regina), and inscription "John and Thos. Mayo, brethren, made this piece, A. D. 1554." This gun is 7 feet, 6 1/2 inches long, weighs about 800 pounds, and is of 2.875 calibre.

ANTI-GAMBLING ORDER
LAID DOWN BY SHERIFF

All alleged games of chance where prizes and money are concerned have been ordered removed from the Mulholland show grounds, near the fair grounds.

Sheriff Charles W. Baxter swooped down upon the owners of the shows, Wednesday night and ordered all games which in any way resembling gambling, dispensed with.

GREEK PREDICTS WAR VICTORY

Will Crush Turkey On Next Offensive, Claims General

SMYRNA — (By Associated Press) — A complete victory of the Hellenic arms over the Kemalists of Turkey in the next offensive was predicted today by Major General Anastasios Papoulis, the Commander-in-Chief of the Greek forces in Anatolia.

His army, he declared, had been enormously strengthened since the repulse at Eskişehir, and only by pure chance could the Turks now be successful. He further stated that his troops outnumbered the Kemalists by almost three to one and that his army was so mobile that it could attack at any point along the 500-kilometer front.

The Greek generalissimo, whose appearance suggests the old civil war type of soldier, received the correspondent in the ancient Turkish barracks overlooking Smyrna harbor. He had just finished admonishing a group of officers telling them that they must put aside fractional political feelings, think only of the good of their country and leave politics to Athens. He exhorted them that they must consider themselves as fathers and brothers to their men, and be true to their duty to God and the King.

LOVED BY MEN

General Papoulis is about 65 years old, of commanding physique and impressive features and with a great charm of manner. He has been a soldier for 30 years and is held in great affection and esteem by his men.

"We are anxious to show the world that this time we can crush the Turk if given a fair chance," said the General sanguinely. "Our soldiers are impatient to begin the fight. Only this moment I received a message from them urging that they be sent forward. We want to put an end to Kemal and his outlaw government."

"Our soldiers seek redress for the lives of their brothers and sisters who have been the victims of Turkish rapacity and murder. Our Turk is now with us, in his presence our soldiers will find renewed inspiration and strength. Naturally, I cannot say when the offensive will begin; but we are prepared, and I have no fear of the result."

AMERICANIZATION WORK IN OHIO NOW DOUBLED

LAKESIDE, Ohio.—The granting of suffrage to women has doubled the Americanization work in Ohio. E. C. Vermillion, state Americanization director told the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs here today.

"Under present laws a foreign-born woman automatically becomes naturalized as soon as her husband receives his citizenship papers," said Vermillion. "There is now pending in congress a bill from the pen of Representative Albert Johnson of Washington, chairman of the house immigration committee, which will compel women to take a naturalization test also before they can vote."

"Meanwhile, in the absence of such legislation, it is all the more essential that care be exercised in preparing the husbands for citizenship so that they will be able to impart their knowledge to their wives."

MISS MCARDLE OFFERED
JOB IN MOVING PICTURES

CLEVELAND—Miss Marian McArdle, who with her mother and grandmother, is charged with the murder of her step-father, Dan Kieber, today was offered a job in the movies.

S. S. Keat, associate counsel for the mother, Mrs. Catherine Eva Kieber, said the offer was made by a New York film firm.

"Marian turned down the offer upon advice of her mother," Keat said. "She said she has decided to become a nurse when this trouble is cleared away. Her mother, who strongly opposed the film offer, favors this plan."

Miss McArdle, who is 21, formerly was an actress.

NEWBURY'S grand old man, Louis C. Post, seventy-six years old, says Phosphated Iron keeps him feeling young and vigorous.

"I am now past seventy-six years of age, and never felt better in my life," says Louis C. Post, of Washington Place, Newburgh, N. Y., "and I can hold up my end of a day's work with the best of them."

"It may sound unreasonable, but when I commenced taking Phosphated Iron, I was a broken-down old man. My stomach had gone back on me; I was nervous and all worn out; and thought my time had come."

"Today I have as much strength and energy as I ever had. I do not feel a day over forty years of age; earn my own living, and ask no favors of any man. I have put on so much weight that all my friends are telling me how well I look. To tell the truth, I do not know what would have become of me if Phosphated Iron had not given me a new lease on life, and I will praise it to the end of my days."

Always insist on Phosphated Iron in capsules. Do not take pills or tablets. Leading Drugists everywhere.
